

Abstract Submission Deadline Extended to September 27th

Society for Ecological Restoration, Texas Chapter & Texas Riparian Association

Joint Conference
November 1-2, 2013, Junction, Texas

The New Ecology: Managing for Resilience in a Changing World

Call for Abstracts

The 2013 joint conference of the Society for Ecological Restoration, Texas Chapter and the Texas Riparian Association will be held November 1-2 in Junction, TX. Our host will be Texas Tech University's Llano River Field Station. We invite submissions for presentations and posters on any topic related to restoration, management, or conservation of natural areas of Texas in either rural or urban settings. Abstracts should be sent by September 27th as an MS Word document to Gwen Thomas at gonthomas_eco@fastmail.fm. Please include with your abstract submission the information below. Authors will be notified of the status of the acceptance of their abstracts by October 1, 2013.

- Title
- Abstract (not to exceed 250 words)
- Authors (format – Lyons, K., Dictson, N.,... Please add an asterisk before the last name of the presenting author.)
- Authors' affiliations
- Preferred presentation type (Talk or Poster)
- E-Mail and phone number for presenting author
- Indicate if you would like to be considered for a best student presentation or poster award

To register or for updates on field trips & program information, visit:
<http://txser.org> or <http://texasriparian.org>

